Joint first

Four winners in the EURO 2016

The European Championship is over, Portugal has triumphed and STAHL CraneSystems also has every reason to celebrate! No fewer than four out of the 169 players have come joint first in the Euro 2016 betting game.

Scoring 106 points, the players Leon Elsman from Den Haag ("Leon"), Gerald Witteck from Gladbeck ("GEFFI"), Andreas Zwetzerich ("ZwetzAn") from Künzelsau and Eike Günter Schmidt ("Plaert") have come first. They are all winners of an official UEFA EURO 2016 football. In second place, just two points behind, were Dirk Storck ("PommesBratzek") and Tina Türk ("TinaT"). They are winners of a fun-to-play tabletop football game for two players.

A (small) tabletop football game also goes to the players with the names Joker, who scored 102 points, and Hans-Günter Bruns, Rubber Duck and Makaire each scoring 100 points.

Incidentally, Gerald Witteck, Dirk Storck and Frank Segal ("svmarga") guessed 11 results out of the 51 matches right. The winner of the last World Cup betting game, "Suarez" from Uruguay, unfortunately only managed place 115 this time.

Players from a total of 22 countries took part. Besides Germany, the countries United Arab Emirates, France and Portugal had the highest number of players betting.

STAHL CraneSystems would like to congratulate all the winners of the betting game on their outstanding performances and also take this opportunity to send their best wishes to the colleagues in Portugal – congratulations on winning EURO 2016!
